Dear Alumni,

Re: Privacy Notice

Under data protection law, individuals have a right to be informed about how the school uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' (sometimes called 'fair processing notices') to individuals where we are processing their personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about alumni of the school, in line with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018.

We, Lymm High School, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law. This means that we are responsible for deciding how we hold and use personal information about you.

Our data protection officer is Helen Stevens (see 'Contact us' below).

The personal data we hold

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about you includes, but is not restricted to:

- Name
- Contact details
- Details about your time at the school, including records of your achievements and interests
- Photographs of your time at the school
- Details of your experience, career and employers since you left the school
- Records of contributions you have made to the school since leaving, such as your time, expertise or money
- Records of how you have engaged with our alumni network, including emails you have opened, events attended, mailing lists you have signed up to and any other interactions
- Information required to manage your attendance at alumni events, including access arrangements and dietary requirements (which could amount to 'special category' personal data, which is more sensitive)
- Bank details and other financial information, if you make any payments to the school
- Records associated with Gift Aid claims on donations

Why we use this data

We use this data to:

- Help us build a community around the school
- Offer enrichment and career development opportunities to current pupils
- Raise extra money so that we can continue to improve the experience pupils get from the school
- Notify you of alumni events you may be interested in

Use of your personal information for marketing purposes

Where you have given us consent to do so, Lymm High School may send you marketing information by email or text promoting school events, campaigns, charitable causes or services that may be of interest to you. You can withdraw consent or 'opt out' of receiving these texts and/or emails at any time by clicking on the "Unsubscribe" link at the bottom of any such communication, or by contacting our data protection officer.

Staff WhatsApp messages

Electronic communications and messaging

We may use electronic communication systems to communicate with pupils, parents/carers, staff and other individuals in connection with the provision and administration of education and the operation of the school.

Staff may use school-approved communication platforms and, where authorised by the school, messaging services for appropriate school-related communications. Personal information will only be shared where there is a lawful basis for doing so and in accordance with the school's data protection, information security and communications policies.

Staff are expected to use school-approved systems wherever possible. Where personal devices or messaging applications are authorised for school-related communications, appropriate safeguards must be followed and information must not be shared more widely than necessary.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) and automated technologies

We may use artificial intelligence (AI) and other automated technologies to support the delivery and administration of education and school services. This may include tools used to support teaching and learning, assist staff with administrative tasks, analyse information, provide feedback, support accessibility and improve school services.

Where AI or automated technologies process personal information, we will ensure that their use is lawful, fair, transparent, proportionate and secure. We will only provide personal information to AI systems where there is an appropriate lawful basis and where the use of the system has been appropriately assessed and authorised by the school.

We will take steps to minimise the personal information provided to AI systems and will not routinely enter confidential or sensitive information about pupils or staff into publicly available AI tools.

Where an AI system is used to support a decision about an individual, appropriate human oversight will be maintained and decisions will not be based solely on automated processing where this would have a legal or similarly significant effect, unless permitted by law and appropriate safeguards are in place.

Our lawful basis for using this data

We only collect and use your personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we process it where we have obtained explicit consent to use it in a certain way, and where we have legitimate interests in processing the data.

Where we have obtained consent, this consent can be withdrawn at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for consent, and explain how to withdraw it.

Where we have legitimate interests in processing your data, we will carry out a 'balancing test' to make sure our processing does not infringe your interests, rights and freedoms. We will only use the data in ways that you would reasonably expect.

The legitimate interests we have are:

- Asking you for financial contributions towards the school, and facilitating this efficiently
- Analysing the composition of our alumni group to help us decide what events or activities to run
- Providing you with marketing communications based on what we think you'll be interested in

In addition, we may process your personal data in order to comply with our legal obligations, such as our accounting and reporting requirements in relation to any donations received, and complying with our duties under equality legislation.

Less commonly, we may process alumni personal data in situations where:

- We need it to perform an official task in the public interest
- We need to protect someone's vital interests (save your life, or someone else's)

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using personal information about you overlap, and there may be several grounds which justify our use of your data.

Collecting this information

Some of the information we collect from you is mandatory, and in some cases you can choose whether or not to provide the information to us.

Whenever we seek to collect information from you, we make it clear whether you must provide this information (and if so, what the possible consequences are of not complying), or whether you have a choice.

We will only collect the data that we need in order to fulfil our purposes, which are set out above.

How we store this data

We will keep your personal data while you remain involved in our alumni network. We may also keep it beyond this, if necessary, to comply with our legal obligations.

Our records management policy sets out how long we keep information about alumni which is based on the Information and Records Management Society's toolkit for schools.

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal information from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed.

We will dispose of your personal data securely when we no longer need it.

Data sharing

We do not share information about alumni with any third party without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Where it is legally required, or necessary (and it complies with data protection law) we may share personal information about alumni with:

- The Department for Education
